HELP FOXY GET TO THE FAIR

The Three Foxes

From the book: When We Were Very Young by A. A. Milne

Once upon a time there were three little foxes
Who didn't wear stockings, and they didn't wear sockses,
But they all had handkerchiefs to blow their noses,
And they kept their handkerchiefs in cardboard boxes.

They lived in the forest in three little houses,
And they didn't wear coats, and they didn't wear trousies.
They ran through the woods on their little bare tootsies,
And they played "Touch last" with a family of mouses.

They didn't go shopping in the High Street shopses,
But caught what they wanted in the woods and copses.
They all went fishing, and they caught three wormses,
They went out hunting, and they caught three wopses.

They went to a Fair, and they all won prizes—
Three plum-puddingses and three mince-pieses.
They rode on elephants and swang on swingses,
And hit three coco-nuts at coco-nut shieses.

That's all that I know of the three little foxes
Who kept their handkerchiefs in cardboard boxes.
They lived in the forest in three little houses,
But they didn't wear coats and they didn't wear trousies,
And they didn't wear stockings and they didn't wear sockses.

RIDDLES

RIDDLE #1

When you're feeling happy or even when you're blue,
This word means to celebrate, and it's good for you.
Philippians 4:4 says to do it always,
It's a way to show joy and brighten your days.
What is this word that brings gladness and cheer,
And helps to remind us that God is near?

RIDDLE #2

In the forest, I'm quite sly, with a bushy tail, oh my!
I'm known for tricks and clever plots,
and sometimes I like to trot.
With fur so red or maybe brown,
I often make my home in the ground.
What am I, can you guess?
I'm a creature known to impress.
